I'm a little disappointed with the whole lack of cover art. No one cares about it anymore. So if you happened to read this and have the

info, please post the cover art somewhere. Thank you. A long long time ago, in a world that's now far away, DJMAX DJMAX was a DJ, playing the best songs, and the beat was his life. He was pretty good at DJMAX, but for some reason he forgot how to play, and everything faded away. He lived alone, and he became a little lonely, with nothing to do. Then, one day he decided to make himself a room, where he could listen to music, and maybe dance a bit. The room was full of memories for DJMAX: His ancestors' photos, and one day he found a note stuck on one of them, from a girl who once came to visit him. DJMAX started to write her, but then he found himself in a town with a bunch of people, and he realized something :That was the reason he left. Now he wants to make it up to her. With the DJMAX RESPECT! DJMAX RESPECT is a music visualizer to those who are fans of old synthesizers. It's a special app that takes advantage of the music of DJMAX RESPECT V. Now you can use it! Report 9th May 2017 Welcome to the Stonks Market Report, a unique business experience in which we conduct hours-long structured interviews in over 40% of the world's premier markets. Interviews are conducted with CEOs, founders, marketing leaders, serial entrepreneurs, analysts, investors and advisors. Trained over years to spot the founders we believe have exceptional potential to grow their business we attempt to speak to over 100 Founders in each market. As well as asking about their business, we ask about their future plans, their motivations, their growth strategy and hear about their ideal customer. Each interview is recorded, transcribed and segmented according to market. The outcome is an intensive, one-off consulting service on a market by market basis, covering everything you need to know about the market. The service also includes templates to support you in finding the right startups, the right strategy and the best teams. I have separated the one-off markets into three sectors:

Fintech/Banking, Retail/Tech and Life Sciences. I have suggested the way the service should work for each sector and given examples of companies in each. If you are a founder who we have not spoken to yet, then contact me at matt at the stonks dot co. And if you are an investor/advisor, then get in touch to discuss how our service can help you. As you will see, we have covered very strong markets indeed for the first time.

We have had good demand from people keen to see their market covered from multiple perspectives. Andrew Sy Entrepreneur and Angel Investor/Co-Founder of AlphaX Labs Andrew said of the Stonks report "The idea came to me a few years ago. I wanted a service that did something to help entrepreneurs. I worked in the online space for many years and

I came to realise that although I loved watching the market evolve, I had no idea what it was like to create and launch something from the ground up. Entrepreneurs are not seen by the mainstream to be role models. The Stonks Market Report is all about shining a light on the entrepreneurs that are making things happen - and helping them to find the right mentors - investors - advisors etc.” Andrew also shared with us “We are really fortunate that we have a number of advisers and mentors that understand the digital space extremely well and we are extremely grateful for this. The Stonks Market

The Second Person Shooter (also known as FPS) is considered as one of the most popular genres in the video game industry. For these very reasons, there is a large number of different FPS games. There are several genres of FPS games, from realistic to futuristic, from arcade to realistic. However, one thing that binds all of them is their gameplay. As such, FPS games allow the player to enjoy the combat mechanics at their fullest, the way they were initially intended. For these very reasons, we have decided to create our own FPS game. We wanted to create the best game that we could and not disappoint our players. Hence, we have based our game on the "high-octane" genre. In a nutshell, Counter-Strike (the original) was an excellent 2D shooter game. It was well received and it became a cult classic. So we decided to create our own game that offers a fun gameplay, tight controls, and a great degree of challenge and variability. The combination of these things defines the Counter-Strike killer game - Qwaworcs! Quwaworcs is based on the "high-octane" genre of FPS games. We wanted to put a heavy emphasis on our gameplay, so we have a lot of features that you might not find in other games. It is the combination of these features that make our game unique. What do I mean by this? I mean that the game features a "toxic" atmosphere combined with FPS gameplay. The thing that makes the "toxic" atmosphere so popular is the fact that the game has a humorous effect on your senses and the way you "feel" in the game (feel free to ask questions). This is what makes the game so intriguing. We have a large selection of weapons available to you (see weapon/knife selection) and a wide array of settings to have you experience a high-octane game. From single-player to multiplayer, there are 3 maps, a wide variety of game modes to enjoy and tons of gameplay modes. We have designed the game in such a way that the player doesn't feel "lame" while playing. You don't have to "aim down the sight" (wait for the sights to stabilize) - you don't have to "commit to flinching" (the game takes your decisions away) - you don't need to "regenerate health" (when you go low, you regenerate quickly) - and you don't have to "cover" (you
